Lack supervision to House care is one of factor The main thing that makes it worse bullying problem among children living there. When supervision No adequate, environment House care become prone to to happen behavior intimidation and violence between fellow

THEORETICAL BASIS

In House Upbringing, supervision to danger bullying must Keep going done Because lack supervision to House care is one of factor The main thing that makes it worse bullying problem among children living there. When supervision No adequate, environment House care become prone to to happen behavior intimidation and violence between fellow. According to (APA) American Psychiatric Association (2000), bullying is behavior characterized aggressiveness with 3 conditions namely (a) behavior purposeful negative For damage or harmful (b) repeated behavior during period time certain (c) existence imbalance strength or power from the parties involved. According to Coloroso (2007), bullying is action intimidation carried out in a way repeatedly by more parties strong to more party weak, done with deliberate and purposeful For injure the victim in a way physique nor emotional. From several theory above can concluded the meaning of bullying is behavior negative actions carried out by the superior party strong to more party weak with use nor No use tools that aim to make you feel stressed Good in a way physique nor emotional. Forms bullying complies Coloroso (2007) exists three, namely verbal/ verbal bullying with hurtful words, epithets, shouts, threats in a way verbal, insult, etc. Then physical bullying like slap, hit, strangle, poke, punch, kick, bite, scratch, twist, spit, damage clothes or goods from the victim. The third is relational bullying. Relational bullying is subtraction feeling (sense) self someone who is systematic through neglect, isolation, exclusion, avoidance.

Following This is a number of aspect from lack possible supervision cause the problem of bullying in the orphanage upbringing :

1. Lack of Personnel

One factor main in lack supervision is lack of amount staff or caregivers available at the home upbringing. In a number of case, amount children living in institutions care Far more Lots than amount available staff For supervise they. This matter make staff difficult For monitor interaction between children in a way constantly, so possible bullying behavior for happen without detected.

2. Focus on Needs Physique

Sometimes, parlors care more focus on fulfillment need physique children, like food, clothing, and place stay, than notice aspects Social and emotional are also important. As a result, supervision to behavior social, including bullying, perhaps No become priority main for staff House upbringing.

3. Rapid personnel rotation

A number of House care experience rotation fast, good staff Because reason finances, fatigue work, or regulation organization. Rotation fast personnel can result lack of consistency in supervision and formation strong relationship between staff and children at the home upbringing. This matter can make difficult for staff For recognize and deal with cases of bullying effective.

4. Centralized Supervision

In a number of House care, supervision tend focused on certain areas, such as eating, sleeping or formal activities. However, interaction between children outside supervised areas Possible No get enough attention. This can give chance for bullying behavior for occurs in places where it is lacking supervised.
